ARMY AND NAVY NEWS

Enlisted men of the coast artillery corps stationed at Fort Ruger are questioning the authority under which they are now engaged in breaking rocks and otherwise clearing up the confines of the new military garrison opposite Battery Harlow, located on the slopes of Diamond Head, on the ground that such work constitutes no part of the military duties for which they enlisted.

"We might as well be prisoners of Alcatraz," said an artilleryman, "because there they are compelled to police whatever grounds or portions of a post they are assigned to. But we are merely members of the garrison, not under arrest, and it certainly does not belong to the enlisted man's duties to be put to work breaking rocks and clearing or policing camp."

Fort Ruger, where the coast artillery cantonment was constructed a few weeks ago, is certainly not a paradise. Great lava boulders mess up the place although they are rapidly being taken out, and underneath the rocks there is nothing but the reddest of red dirt, with just enough mineral substance in it to cause it to stain the uniforms.

Inspection of the Posts.

Congressman Young and Congressman Prince, two members of the Military Committee of the House here with the Congressional party, have made a thorough and systematic inspection of the military posts of the island. Yesterday completed their tour of inspection when they spent the entire day out at Fort Ruger looking over the fortifications of Diamond Head.

Reception for Officers.

General and Mrs. McClellan have issued invitations for a reception to-morrow afternoon from half past four until half past five o'clock at which the guests of honor will be Rear-Admiral Sebree and the officers of the Pacific fleet. The reception will be at the McClellans' residence on Nuuanu avenue which the McClellans are at present occupying.

The Veteran Had Him.

"Were you ever in prison?" demanded the prosecuting attorney insinuatingly.

"Yes, sir," admitted the gray-headed witness for the defense.

"Aha! I thought so. And what for, may I ask?"

"Assault with intent to kill."

"And how long were you in prison?"

"Until I escaped, sir."

The prosecutor turned triumphantly to the gentlemen of the jury.

"So, gentlemen," he said, "we have here, as the chief witness for the defense, an ex-convict and fugitive from justice, by his own confession!"

He turned again to the witness.

"When and where were you in prison, sir?" he sneered.

The old man straightened up and spoke in a strong, clear voice:

"I was captured, sir, at the battle of Fort Harris on Sept. 29, 1864, and sent to Libby Prison, Richmond. I effected my escape while being transferred to Salisbury, N. C. As to—"

But that was already more than the prosecutor wanted to know.—Everybody's Magazine.

West Point Athletic Season.

The following bulletin has been issued giving the date of football games in which the United States Military Academy at West Point will participate, and makes a request upon all Army officers to contribute toward the expenses of the season, as follows:

West Point, N. Y., July 20, 1909.

Bulletin No. 1.

Arrangements are completed for the football contests this fall and the following schedule is announced:

October 2, Tufts; 9, Trinity; 16, Yale; 23, Lehigh; 30, Harvard.

November 6, Springfield Training School; 13, Villanova; 20, Washington and Jefferson; 27, Navy.

All games will be played at West Point, except the annual contest with the Naval Academy. This game will be played at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Army has been fortunate in securing an excellent coaching staff, Captain J. W. Beacham, 9th Infantry; Lieutenant A. J. Hanlon, 28th Infantry; and Lieutenant W. C. Philoan, 14th Infantry, have been detailed to assist in this important work.

The spirit of the Corps of Cadets was never better, and the interest taken in athletics by the Army and by civilian friends of the Army, is greater than ever before.

Last year West Point won all its championship games—football, fencing, baseball—as a consequence, special interest centers around the contests of this year.

We solicit the same liberal encouragement and financial assistance that has been given in former years, to enable us to defray the expense which it will be necessary to incur in order to give the Cadets every possible advantage in training and coaching, and thus assure success. It is estimated that $25,000 will be required for athletics this year.

It is especially desired that every officer of the Army contribute something to the support of these contests, and invite his civilian friends who are interested in athletics at the Military Academy to join the association and become contributors.

It is hoped that in the annual report next June there will be no names missing. The object is the promotion of wholesome athletics not alone at the Military Academy but throughout the Army.

Our subscribers may be interested in knowing that the University of Pennsylvania gets one-third of the tickets to the Army and Navy game at Franklin Field, and that these tickets are sold and the proceeds, remaining after paying expenses for building seats, etc., donated to the societies for the relief of widows and orphans of the officers, soldiers, and sailors of the Army and Navy. For the Navy game our third of the tickets will give us about 8300 seats.

Our own grandstands at West Point will accommodate about 6800 people. As the satisfactory distribution of these seats is a problem of considerable magnitude, it will very materially assist us in gratifying the desires of our friends if they will make application for tickets early.

Please send all subscriptions to the treasurer, United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y.

McCLELLAN RECEIVES GIFT FROM VISITORS

George B. McClellan, the able and efficient secretary to Delegate Kalaniana'ole at Washington, and also the representative of the Chamber of Commerce at the national Capital, was the recipient yesterday morning of a handsome silver tea service from the members of the Congressional delegation now visiting in Honolulu. The presentation was made in the parlor of the Alexander Young Hotel, Hon. Richard Bartholdt, of St. Louis, making the presentation speech. The gift was in appreciation of many courtesies extended to the visiting Congressmen and their wives and daughters by the secretary.

Following the presentation expert Bonine took a picture of the Congressional party, every persons of the party being in the picture this time, which is the first time. It will be designated as the official Congressional party photograph.

BABIES AND CHILDREN

should be fairly plump. They ought to put on fat as fast as they use it up; for fat is fuel, and the burning of it makes power and force. Thin children—even along to the age of eighteen or twenty—are in danger from consumption, and from other wasting complaints. The children who starve, and the young men and women who are consumed—why, the very idea of it is frightful. For such as they, there is always what is called a "mighty famine" in the land. Food, though it may be taken plentifully, does not nourish them. It makes no fat; it gives no strength. To prevent this, to cure this, to save the young ones at the mother's knees, and the bright boys and girls who are just looking at the world with ambitious eyes, is the purpose of WAMPOL'S PREPARATION.

Its success is decided and settled. Thousands owe to it life and health. It is palatable as honey and contains all the curative properties of pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. In building up pale, puny, emaciated children, particularly those troubled with Anemia, Scrofula, Rickets, and bone and blood diseases, nothing equals it; its tonic qualities are of the highest order. A Medical Institution says: "We have used your preparation in treating children for coughs, colds and inflammation; its application has never failed us in any case, even the most aggravated bordering on pneumonia. The children like it, and it builds up their bodies; many little children owe their lives to it." Effective from the first dose, and you cannot be disappointed in it." Sold by chemists.
